Product designer • April 2024 – Now

I design and build flow for new B2B products in close collaboration with product managers and business analysts.

I develop new features, refine current scenarios, collect feedback from colleagues and work closely with developers, conduct design reviews, participate in research and analyze data, ensure consistency in layout work. I prepare prototypes for hypothesis testing in Pathway

Deployed 2 products that have already started generating revenue for the company. I am also reworking the internal admin and participating in the development of a new design system for the bank's loan team

Digital Guild Studios

B2B

UX/UI designer • July 2023 – April 2024

The main task is to develop design for the projects of the studio's customers. Designing UX part of sites, content management systems, online stores and creating a unique visual style, identity, redesigning existing projects.

In this position I work directly with the project manager and developers. I put forward my points of view, as a designer, on the projects of the studio and justify them with facts and arguments. I prepare design layouts in figma for html coding. I create prototypes and MVPs as needed.

In parallel with design I am engaged in marketing component and promotion of contextual advertising and advertising in social networks for clients of the studio
